FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Kantech Releases EntraPass v6.01 with exacqVision VMS Integration

Provides end users with an enhanced access control and video surveillance

WESTFORD, MA. February 13, 2014 — Kantech, part of the Tyco Security Products business unit of Tyco (NYSE: TYC), the world’s largest pure-play fire protection and security company, announces the release of EntraPass v6.01 security management software, continuing to build on the portability, scalability and flexibility of the solution.

EntraPass v6.01 features an integration with the cross-platform, open architecture exacqVision video management system (VMS) from Exacq. By integrating the exacqVision VMS with the EntraPass v6.01 access control system, customers can now view, manage and play back video linked to access control events, as well as perform traditional access control functions such as lock and unlock doors, through a single platform.

“The integration of exacqVision VMS into this latest edition of EntraPass results in a more powerful, yet still user-friendly interface,” said Scott McNulty, Senior Product Manager, Kantech. “The outcome is an ideal solution for customers who may not be full time security professionals, but who need an intuitive solution that they can turn to after an incident has occurred.”

Along with exacqVision, EntraPass v6.01 also integrates with American Dynamics DVRs and NVRs and DSC PowerSeries and MAXSYS intrusion alarm panels.

Corporate and Global Editions of EntraPass v.6.01 offer enhanced functionalities in the EntraPass Web platform that delivers remote, convenient access to common security tasks and reporting from a standard web browser, as well as the EntraPass Go mobile app, which enables security administrators to interact with the EntraPass software using a variety of mobile devices, such as iOS and Android platform smartphones and tablets,
